

STUENDOUS
DISASTER180 Mine Workers May
Have Lost Lives

A COURRIERS, FRANCE

Fire Damp Came Soon After
They Had Descended Into the Mine and Then Fire
Followed.

March 10.—Terrible loss of life is reported in a mine disaster at Courrières, France. An explosion of fire damp occurred about 1,800 men employed in the workings, had descended into the mine. Fire followed immediately and it will be a miracle if more than one of the unfortunate workmen is saved.

The fire burned so fiercely that the flames reached to the top of the shaft. It is impossible to give any idea of the number of casualties, as all approach the mine is cut off. That any men escaped death seems impossible owing to the fact that no one has been able to get his way out and the fiercest flames would seem to preclude the idea that there was any means of saving them in the underground passages. Mr. Dabiel, who held the post of master of the interior in the recent disaster, has started by train for the mine to take personal charge of the attempts to rescue the unfortunate.

FOUND ARCHBISHOP DEAD.

Right Rev. Cornelius O'Brien Died at Halifax.

Halifax, N. S., March 10.—The Right Rev. Cornelius O'Brien, D. D., Catholic archbishop of Halifax, died suddenly last night of apoplexy. His grace had been in delicate health for several years, but recently showed much improvement and was actively engaged in the duties of his episcopacy. He issued his final pastoral, which was read last Sunday, and celebrated mass at St. Mary's cathedral that day.

A few days ago he complained of indigestion and was under his physician's care, but no serious result was expected. His doctor left him at ten o'clock. His grace had retired and his sister, who was at his bedside, left the room to get a drink of water. Returning a moment later she found him dead.

Bishop O'Brien was 62 years old. He started life as a clerk in a country store at Summerside, P. E. I., where he had as a fellow worker President Schuman of Cornell University. He was an eloquent advocate of home rule for Ireland, a staunch imperialist and a strong Canadian.

A FOOT OF SNOW.

Massachusetts Has Worst Storm of the Year.

Woods Hole, Mass., March 10.—Practically unrelieved, a northeast gale of hurricane proportions, accompanied by a blinding fall of heavy, wet snow, descended upon Cape Cod early yesterday, and by 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon more than a foot of snow had fallen. No storm in recent years has done so much damage in a short time to telegraph and telephone lines, wires being down in all directions and communication being made only through trains and messengers.

The barometer in the afternoon stood at 29, the wind had hauled around to the north and the temperature had taken a decided drop. In the forenoon, the wind attained a velocity of fifty miles an hour. There was a brief lull at noon, but by 4 o'clock the wind increased in force.

Wire communication with Cuttyhunk and Gay Head was broken at 2 o'clock but up to that time no disasters to Vineyard sound shipping had been reported.

No storm warnings had been sent out in time to hold vessels in port, and it was feared here that some craft might come to grief in the day or night.

ARIZONA AND NEW MEX-
ICO OUT OF THE BILLAnd Statehood Measure Passed Senate
Late Yesterday—Oklahoma and Indian Territory Together.

Washington, March 10.—Yesterday at 5:25 p. m., the Senate passed a bill for the admission of a new state to be called Oklahoma and Indian Territory. It was the House joint statehood bill with all the provisions relating to Arizona and New Mexico struck out. The motion to strike out was made by Mr. Burrows and it was carried, 37 to 35, after having been lost by the stiff close vote of 35 to 35.

STEAMER SANK.

Unknown Vessel Is Thought to Have Been Passenger Steamer.

London, March 10.—A large steamer is reported to have struck on a ledge northwest of Iceland, an island off the coast of Brittany and that upon refloating the sank immediately. Her name is unknown. The vessel is said to have been a passenger steamer.

WILL TALK WITH JEWS.

Czar Has Decided to Meet a Deputation.

St. Petersburg, March 10.—The czar has decided to receive a deputation of Jews who will discuss the subject of Jewish reforms.

Prominent Deputy Dead.

Berlin, Germany, March 10.—Eugene Richter, one of the best known deputies in the Reichstag, is dead.

"NONE OF YOUR BUSINESS,"
SAYS REV. DR. SEAVERWhen Asked by Attorney General Fitts
to Testify in the House of Correction Inquiry.

Rutland, March 10.—When the Rev. Dr. Norman Seaver was called to the stand in the house of correction investigation yesterday, and was told by Attorney General Fitts that Superintendent Morgan had asked that he be summoned to explain the statements which he was reported to have made in the Rutland opera house Monday night, the clergyman replied: "You are here to investigate this institution and you have no right to ask me what I said and what I did not say. I have no personal knowledge of the place except the reading of the testimony that has been given and from evidence in a certain office in Rutland."

"What is the evidence?" asked Mr. Fitts.

"It is none of your business and I decline to answer any question. If you have any remedy take it," replied the witness.

No heed was paid to his declaration to answer questions and the witness continued: "I know nothing personally, that ends it." Witness said he had an engagement and declined to wait at the house of correction another minute. He then arose from his chair and proceeded to leave. He was told that if he attempted to leave the place he would be charged with contempt of court and dealt with accordingly. He replied that they were not a court and could not arrest a witness under court orders. Mr. Fitts stated that he knew in what capacity he was acting and would not start any debate but would take immediate action. He consulted the members of the committee, and for them ordered that Deputy Sheriff John Smith, one of the prison guards, be sent for to arrest the clergyman and hold him in custody until the committee was ready and willing to dismiss him from the stand. The Rev. Dr. Seaver returned to the stand and admitted that he had no legal evidence against the management of the institution and could not back up the statements of a few minutes ago by anything that would be accepted by the committee. In closing he said: "You are no judge of my attitude towards the house of correction."

Mr. Fitts stated that he was satisfied with the testimony that the Rev. Dr. Seaver had given and that he would not arrest the clergyman and hold him in custody until the committee was ready and willing to dismiss him from the stand. He said that while the committee wished to get all the information possible they could not try any such case as that of Mr. Morgan's against the Rev. Dr. Seaver.

HEARING ON TUESDAY.

For Extradition of Patrick F. McCabe, Fugitive.

St. Albans, March 10.—The hearing in the matter of the extradition of Patrick F. McCabe, the former Central Vermont agent at Bolton, who fled to Canada during a session of the board of railroad commissioners held in this city and before which McCabe was summoned as a witness, will be held in hearing will be before Judge Choquette, a member of the board of extradition commissioners.

McCabe, it will be remembered, was agent at Bolton on January 26, when the New England States Limited, the crack train of the Central Vermont, plunged into an open cut on which the signal lights had been changed to show a clear track.

The charges against McCabe are perjury and train wrecking, and a strong effort will be made to get him extradited on one or the other or both of these charges.

CRAZED BY FRIGHT.

Aged Woman Was Wured in Path of Locomotive.

Binghamton, N. Y., March 10.—After getting out of the way of a swiftly moving Lackawanna train near Whitney Point, Mrs. Kate Bliss, aged 70 years of that village, leaped back upon the tracks and crouching between the rails, allowed the heavy locomotive to pass over her body at a terrific speed yesterday morning. When the wreckmaster struck the aged right rail, her head was completely severed and after it rolled away from the rails, the body was thrown to the opposite side of the track.

It is commonly supposed that the fright resulting from the appreciation of her dangerous position, caused temporary insanity and the woman was hurled directly into the path of the locomotive.

SURRENDERED HIS LICENSE.

Brandon Hotel Proprietor Had Been Summoned.

Brandon, March 10.—F. W. Johnson, proprietor of the Douglas House at the station, surrendered his first class license to the commissioners yesterday, and no more liquor will be sold at that place. Mr. Johnson was to appear before the commissioners yesterday afternoon and show cause why his license should not be forfeited, on complaint of having sold in an illegal manner on town meeting day.

PRETTY GIRL A SUICIDE.

Had a Falling Out With Her Lover of Six Weeks.

Rochester, N. Y., March 10.—May Merritt, a pretty young girl of 18 years, committed suicide last night by taking carbolic acid. She met a young man six weeks ago with whom she fell violently in love. They had a misunderstanding Thursday evening and last night the girl went over to his home on Marietta street and took the poison there. She moved to Rochester with her parents from Shortsville a short time ago.

WAS OPENED TODAY.

Great Underground Railway in London
Build by C. T. Yerkes.

London, March 10.—Baker street and Waterloo underground railway linking North and South London, was opened today. The railway was constructed by the late Charles T. Yerkes, of New York, as a part of the gigantic network of underground railways of London.

THIS VERDICT
IS UNUSUALJury Finds For Defendant
With a Proviso

IN FALSE ARREST CASE

That If Supreme Court Should Reverse
It in Favor of Plaintiff They Would
Award $393 Damages and Save
Another Trial.

Montpelier, March 10.—The jury in the false imprisonment case of Newell C. Wright vs. A. C. Templeton, which has been tried in Washington county court for two days, brought in a verdict this afternoon for the defendant officer who made the arrest. But there is a peculiar proviso attached to their verdict. It is that if the case should go to the Vermont Supreme court on exceptions and the verdict of the county court is reversed in favor of the plaintiff the damages shall be $393. The lower court has yet to act on this latter matter.

The jury is composed of the following men: O. D. Shortleiff of Barre city; E. D. Tait, of Barre town; L. O. Thayer, of Roxbury; Albert Tucker, of Warren; George Whitaker, of Plainfield; D. C. Green, of Waterbury; F. W. Coburn, of East Montpelier; W. E. Denmore, of Northfield; L. J. Elliot, of Waterbury; Foss, of Plainfield, and Alva S. Alden of Middlesex.

Wright sued Templeton for $5,000, claiming besides false imprisonment improper treatment. He was arrested on October 9, 1899 at Groton, it being claimed that he was leaving the state with mortgaged property. Wright, whose home is in Haverhill, N. H., had been working in Groton with nine horses. Wright set up in his bill that when arrested he had no coat and that the then Sheriff Templeton made him ride in a cold night to Barre, leaving Groton in the evening of the 9th and arriving in Barre the following morning. Wright claimed that he caught such a cold that he was over 40 weeks in recovering. He was to be brought before Justice Scott and was being held in the Montpelier jail when the then State's Attorney Hoar prosecuted the case.

The case was finished this morning, and the jury took it shortly before noon. E. H. Devitt, George W. Wing and J. W. Gordon appeared for the plaintiff and Senter & Senter and R. A. Hoar for the defendant. After the jury had brought in the verdict the court adjourned.

JEALOUS OF SISTER.

Atlanta Woman Shot Four Times and Killed Her.

Atlanta, Ga., March 10.—Mrs. Edward M. Standifer, 25 years, yesterday shot and killed her sister, Miss Chappell Whisenant, aged 18, alleging she was actuated by her husband's attentions to her victim. Miss Whisenant was to have been married next Wednesday.

Mrs. Standifer went early yesterday to the home of her brother-in-law where Miss Whisenant resided, and entered her sleeping room. Four shots were heard, and Miss Whisenant fell wounded just above the heart and in other vital spots. She died half an hour later without having spoken.

Mrs. Standifer went to her home, telephoned to her brother-in-law's home, asking if Miss Whisenant was dead. Being informed that she had died, Mrs. Standifer expressed no regret for her act and said she would surrender to the police. She was arrested later. During the day she conversed freely, declaring that she had "avenge her outraged womanhood."

Mrs. Standifer also was held by the police.

CORNELL THE WINNER.

Defeated Columbia and Pennsylvania in Debate.

New York, March 10.—Cornell University last night won an annual triangular debate with the University of Pennsylvania and Columbia University. Teams representing the three institutions met simultaneously last night in New York, Philadelphia and Ithaca. Cornell won from Pennsylvania at Philadelphia and from Columbia University at Ithaca. Pennsylvania took second honors by defeating Columbia here.

The subject of the debate was: "Resolved, That American Cities Should Seek the Solution of the Street Railway Problem Through Private Ownership and Operation."

Cornell won on the affirmative of the proposition at Ithaca and in Philadelphia by upholding the negative.

In the debate here Pennsylvania won from Columbia on the negative. The teams competing here were: Pennsylvania, R. W. Stevens, A. W. Shick and C. Ashline; Columbia, E. W. Leavenworth, T. L. Ludlow and E. S. Spitz.

MRS. TOLLA IS SAVED.

Murderess Sentenced to Be Hanged Will Serve Seven and a Half Years.

Trenton, March 10.—The sentence of death imposed upon Mrs. Antonette Tolla, the Bergen county murderess, for the killing of Joseph Santos, was commuted to seven and a half years imprisonment by the court of pardons.

The vote stood 6 to 2. Mrs. Tolla was to have been hanged in Hackensack on Monday, March 12. This is the first time that the court of pardons has ever commuted a death sentence to other than life imprisonment.

Eight Persons Killed.

Lahore, India, March 10.—An earthquake has occurred at Simla, damaging many buildings, killing eight persons and injuring twenty-six.

DOE FOLLOWS HIM ABOUT.

Fair Haven Man Has a Tame Deer
Which He Will Liberate Soon.

Rutland, March 10.—Deputy Sheriff John H. Folly of Fair Haven has a young doe which is as tame as any casket lamb. He has had the animal two months and it has learned to follow him about the premises and to answer to his name. "Dolly" is a most intelligent and gentle dog would do. The deer has much sharper ears than an ordinary domestic animal and can hear the sheriff call when a great distance from him.

Deputy Folly has had the doe about two months. It appeared in the village one day and was followed by him and dogs, having had the left foreleg broken by some accident previously. The sheriff who is noted for his kindness for animals, dressed the wound and the leg is now perfectly strong. At first deer was aggressive and would strike at its benefactor with its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It eats much less than a sheep or calf would. With its sharp horns whenever he approached too near it but in a few days it learned to eat from his hand and now it will follow him about like a pet dog, sometimes even entering the house. The deer is fed bran and oats. It